> THE BEST METHOD OF KEEPING COOL. During the het and sultry days of Summer, when the mercury is the thermometer has gone up to the top of the ladder, apparently to get cooled off, men become languid and drowsy and many seek relief by imbibing quantities of lager beer, being atraid to drink the whiskey to be had in town, which, on account of the arge percentage of water that it contains, produces malaria. But lager beer does not cool the ystem. On the contrary, when taken in quantities, it fires the whole system, and produces heat far wome than that caused by the rays of the sun. The best receipt for the bad feelings produced by extreme heat may be found by ap-plying to Mr. Gus. Ebring, tonsorial artist, corner Bloomfeld and Washington Avenues, Bloomfield Centre. Mr. Ehring has the coolest and best equipped tonsorial parlors in the town and has, also, in his popular assistant, "George," as fine a barber and as good a fellow every way as can be found in the country. Give him a call during the hot weather and convince yourself of the advantages of a barbershop, as compared with a beer-saloon,
